Introduction

About iNetwork

Established in 2001, and hosted by Tameside Council since 2006, iNetwork is a local public sector partnership made up of councils, police, fire, health, housing and voluntary sector organisations.

The partnership is owned by its members, and is dedicated to promoting excellence in the delivery of public services. We work across many areas of government and social sectors to upskill leaders, share best practice and facilitate collaborative thinking spaces, making working practices more efficient whilst developing peer support networks.

iNetwork enables local public service organisations, individually and collectively, to deliver more innovative, high quality and cost effective services. We do this primarily by hosting a range of member led events and other activities which create much needed space for us to collectively rethink how we support our communities through sharing of cross-sector expertise. This helps local public services to become more effectively integrated, intelligence-led and productive.

Key member benefits:

- Opportunities to influence national and regional agendas and initiatives
- Access to safe forums to confidentially raise and discuss issues or concerns.
- Cyber threat awareness and briefings via our Warning Advice & Reporting Point
- Learn and share emerging best practice from peers across the partnership
- Eligibility to enter the Annual iNetwork Innovation Awards

Reasons to join the membership:

- We remain relevant because we listen and respond to our member's needs.
- We have an established track record for delivering benefits to our public sector members.
- We inspire, motivate and encourage our members.
- We provide access to high quality training, knowledge sharing and skills.
- We are a recognised leading network for brokering knowledge through best practice.
- We are a trusted, safe and approachable network.
- We can influence and make change when we speak with a collective voice.
- We provide the space and opportunities for effective cross-sector collaboration.
- We provide the opportunity for our members to grow their professional reputation.

“Another fantastic conference! iNetwork always delivers on a great range of relevant topics and tips. A wonderful showcase of the public sector.”

Sarah Bullock
Assistant Director, St Helen's Council

Welcome

Dear colleague,

As the Chair of the iNetwork Executive Board, I would like to warmly thank you for your interest in the iNetwork partnership. Whether you are new to iNetwork or a veteran, I would like to take this opportunity to draw your attention to the benefits of iNetwork's partnership and services.

The wealth of the partnership lies in our member's collective contribution to the peer network; it is by working together that we can effectively collaborate and innovate for the local public sector.

This past year has seen many urgent and unexpected challenges for the people and places that we serve. It is more important than ever that iNetwork continues to support the sector in the most effective way. iNetwork's priorities for 2021-22 reflect these challenges and the needs of our membership.

This is why we are focusing on early intervention and prevention, more effective digital delivery, improved information sharing and better procurement and commissioning.

Thank you to everyone who contributes to iNetwork. On behalf of my colleagues on the Executive Board, I encourage you to join iNetwork and make the most of the partnership's resources and support.

Yours faithfully,

Transforming and Innovating Public Services

Introduction

Welcome to our Transforming and Innovating Public Services (TIPS) Programme 2021/2022.

Our updated programme has been co-produced with members and is designed to engage professionals at various levels of the organisation in the public, private, community voluntary and faith sectors. Our key aim in establishing this programme is to support high impact systemic change for people and places and remain a relevant member led programme. It is focused on delivering improved outcomes through innovative citizen centred solutions that combine data, technology and culture change.

We offer a selection of plenary sessions, round table discussions, leading speakers, opportunities to discuss regional and national challenges and more. It provides an opportunity to meet with colleagues and to informally discuss priorities and generally embrace the nature of this group.

With the intention of continuing to develop the momentum and enthusiasm already gained we encourage you to take an active part in TIPS, to make the most of discussions, networking and other opportunities.

Connected Procurement and Commissioning

Introduction

Welcome to iNetwork's Connected Procurement and Commissioning (CPC) programme. There is growing recognition across local and national government that innovative public procurement can play a crucial role in driving better outcomes for public organisations, and the people and places that they serve.

iNetwork's CPC programme creates space for procurement professionals, commissioners, contract managers, and budget holders to hold constructive conversations and share best practice. Our activities support the partnership to deliver more efficient public services and to build stronger, fairer, and greener local economies through improved procurement and commissioning.

The focus of the 2021-2022 programme is to enable procurement and commissioning leads to understand what innovation in this field looks like, and to encourage colleagues to collaborate on shared challenges. The programme will help the local public sector to respond to the changing nature of public services by continuing to support greater efficiency, commercial practices, and service integration, whilst also championing core social value outcomes such as environmental sustainability, tackling modern slavery, local wealth building, and inclusive growth.

Effective Information Sharing and Security Programme

Introduction

Welcome to iNetwork's Effective Information Sharing & Security (EISS) programme. Organisations are asking individuals to trust them with more and more data, to drive efficiency and innovation in the context of GDPR that brought with it increased rights for the individual.

We have seen the continued threat of cyber-attacks and so organisations need to ensure that the data that they hold on individuals is both safe and secure and shared only where this is appropriate.

The focus of the 2021-22 programme is to continue supporting the iNetwork membership in the areas of information governance, information security and information leadership. The programme recognises that information leadership should not be the sole domain of those that hold specialised roles of DPO, SIRO, Caldicott Guardian, or IG Officer. This year's programme therefore seeks to broaden the focus of Information Leadership to support a wider cohort within the membership

Priorities and Objectives

Information Leadership:

This priority bolsters information leadership in iNetwork member organisations with the aim to upskill those with information roles in our member organisations, and to increase influence and strengthen our collective voice to positively impact information access policy and programmes at the national level.

Improving Cyber Security and Resilience:

This priority promotes increased engagement across iNetwork membership in the North West Warning, Advice and Reporting Point (WARP) which facilitates the sharing of best practice and the exchange of information and cyber security intelligence across the membership strengthening collaboration and communication across the region to improve situational awareness and both organisational and multi-agency response readiness. This should lead to a reduction in the number of data breaches as a result of poor practice and cyber-attacks.

Improved Person-Centred Information Sharing:

This priority delivers improvements to necessary and proportionate information sharing to support effective partnership working and person-centred care.

iNetwork

Introduction

The sector is waking up to the importance of information standards, without which we would struggle to communicate and work effectively. Standards are there to help with public sector service reform and change.

iStandUK is part of the iNetwork family. It is a programme that has its own governing board and like iNetwork, the accountable body is Tameside Council. Our mission is to promote Data Standards that support efficiency, transformation and transparency of local public services in the UK.

Our steering board includes representatives from local authorities, government departments and other representative groups, such as the LGA, SOCITM and TechUK.

Phil Swan
Chair
(GMCA)

Priorities and Objectives

Promoting standards and secure data sharing:

iStandUK will use this to give a 'single view' of vulnerable people and households. Whilst also working with the Government Digital Service (GDS) and the DWP to share data in real-time, via APIs to speed up access to, and eligibility for, local services.

Working with the Ministry of Housing, Communities and Local Government's (MHCLG):

iStandUK will work with the MHCLG and their Local Digital Team to establish a set of digital capabilities and the standards that create a market for digital products and services. iStandUK will also look to define open data standards for planning to include Local Plans and Section 106 agreement.
